"Fly High Golden Eagle" was written and performed by Hilary Van Utt in celebration of the nation's 200th birthday. Hilary, a 1975 Ripple graduate, sang her composition for an intermission act at the 1975 Ripples. (See pages 158-159 for more bicentennial news)

Enthusiasm reflected in Homecoming events

A spirit of enthusiasm overwhelme the crowd as the cheerleaders cheered, the band played, and the five queen candidates were announced at the pep session. The events marked the beginning of the Homecoming festivities.

Weeks of work on floats, beginning in family rooms and ending up being too large to squeeze into garages, culminated in a colorful parade through the Village.

The half time activities included the crowning of the 1975 Homecoming Queen, Lisa Fasig, by last year's queen, Nan Norins.

The celebration of the country's 200th birthday was illustrated in the floats as well as in the theme of the post-game dance, "Bicentennial Blast". For the second time, Roger Holloway, WTLC disc jockey, hosted the dance.

Students 'get down' to the music at the Homecoming Bicentennial Blast as Roger Holloway plays the records.

Lisa Fasig is caught by surprise as her name is announced as the 1975 Homecoming Queen. Nan Norins, 1974 Homecoming Queen, crowns her teary-eyed successor.

Radio DJ's start morning for Ripplites

As clock-radios clicked on at approximately 6:30 a.m., 1710 Ripplites woke to the voices of WTLC or WNAP disc jockeys. A hectic rush followed to catch a bus, be ready for a car-pool, or walk to school, with the goal of arriving before the tardy bell.

At 8:15, students settled down into their seats. A Ripple school day had begun.

Although unchanging schedules sometimes seemed monotonous, special events made each day unique. Participating in extracurricular activities, earning an "A" on a test, and gossiping between classes made the hours pass quickly. If all else failed to brighten the day, there was always the thought of the approaching weekend. Staying out late and sleeping until noon revived students for another Monday morning, when the clock-radio again disrupted sleep . . .

Spring fever hits Ripplites

As the weather turned warm, yearning glances out the window followed by wistful sighs were symptoms of a school-wide affliction. Spring fever hit, bringing with it thoughts of good old summertime in Indy.

Visions of sleeping late, catching up on soap operas, and lounging in the sun filled the minds of Ripplites. Many students searched the want ads for summer employment, while others turned their thoughts to attending summer school.

As the school year drew to a close, the Ripple Round-Up and Arts Salon gave recognition to student achievements during the 1975-76 school term.

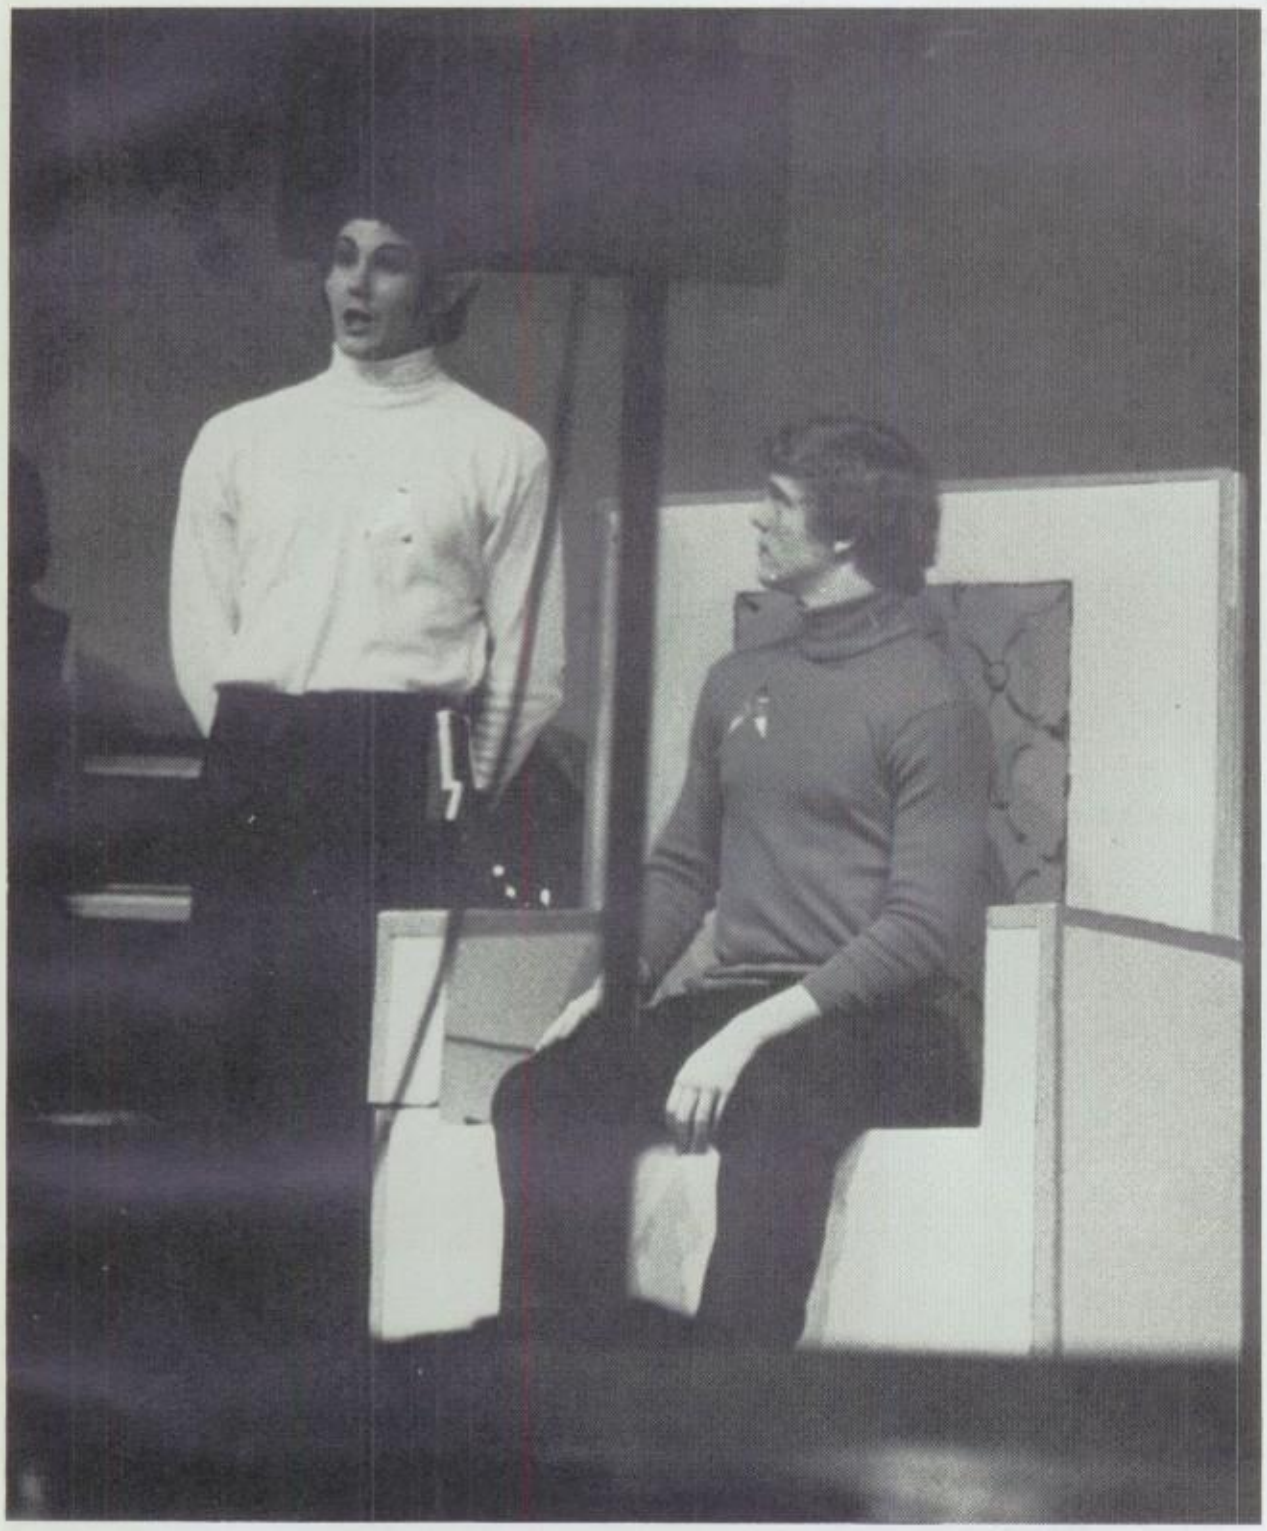
Swing Choir presents 'Godspell' excerpts



"Day by day, oh, dear Lord three things I pray . . . Lyrics such as these were brought alive in the Swing Choir spring presentation of excerpts from the hit Broadway musical "Godspell". In addition, they sang other popular selections in the evening of entertainment, which was the first of its kind.

For the 38th time, Ripplites combined efforts to present the 1975 Ripples acts. Seemingly endless hours of rehearsals resulted in sore throats, weary directors, tired casts, and three well-received productions.

The winning act, "Campus Calamity", depicted life on a typical 1950 college campus. It was directed by Anne Henley, Lisa Lahman, and Mary Reeder.

The other acts were "The Problem With Pribbles", by Mark Emerson, Kevin Fosso, and Dan Snyder, and "All's Fowl in Love And War", written by Kim Kaiser.

Students flock to concerts, Pacer games

Along with the year-round events of partying, attending concerts at the Convention Center, and watching games at Market Square Arena, Ripplites participated in many annual autumn activities. They cheered at football games, went on hayrides, and raked leaves, despite hoarse voices, hay-penetrated clothes, and blistered hands. Students' spirits revived during short vacations.

Ripplites spent winter weekends Christmas shopping at Glendale, shoveling snow for extra income, and boosting the Rocket basketball team. Everyone looked forward to the first snowfall, which came November 26, the two week holiday which began December 19, and the Orange Aid-Key Club Bicentennial Ballroom Blitz, also the 19th.

Decorated with lights for the holiday season, the Soldier's and Sailor's Monument is Indy's largest Christmas tree.

Kate kisses; Shrew tamed

"Another opening, another show . . . " The 15th opening night of the Golden Singers' production of a Broadway musical was November 14, with performances following on November 20 and 22. This year's show was "Kiss Me, Kate".

"Kiss Me, Kate", a musical within a musical, is the story of actors and actresses performing "The Taming of the Shrew", by William Shakespeare. Fred Graham (Bart Medlicott) and Lilli Vanessi (Nancy Balzerick) are performers who were once married. They try to renew their relations after being brought back together as co-stars in "The Shrew".

Over 100 after-school hours put in by the 62 cast members, 61 crew members, and 13 production staff members resulted in the highly acclaimed performance.

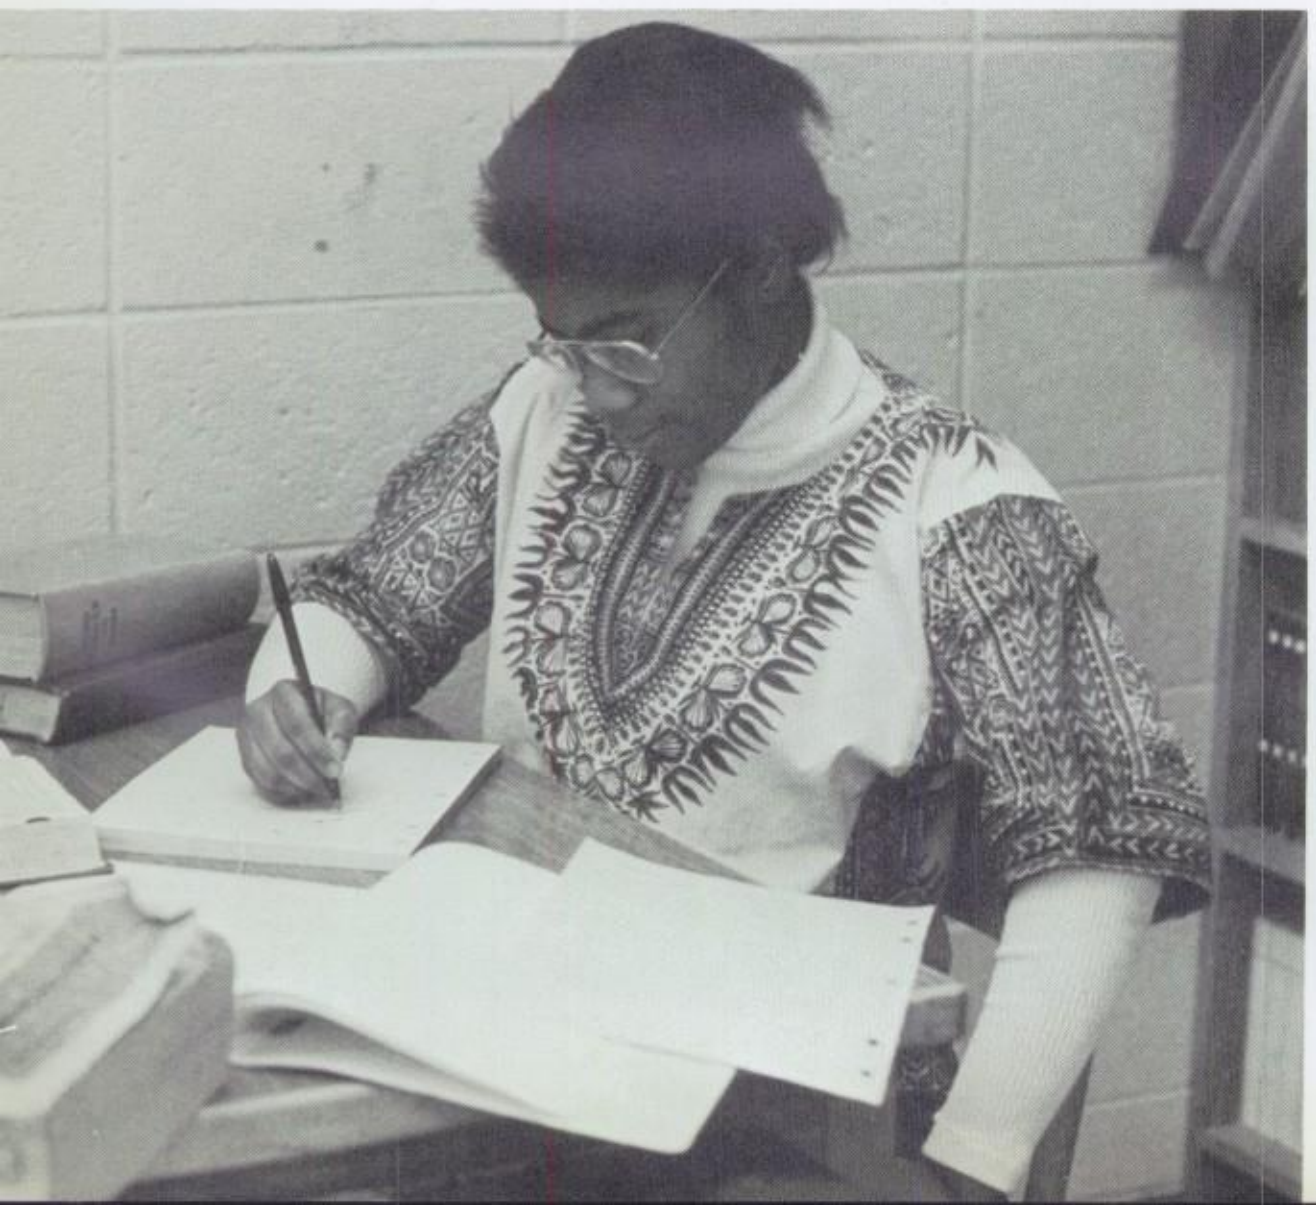
Honor students receive special recognition



In competition with high school students from across the nation, Ripplites distinguished themselves.

Becky Beaman and Lisa Tensmeyer's PSAT scores ranked in the top one-half of one percent of all scores in the country, making them National Merit Semi-finalists.

Daphne Perry was honored with a certificate recognizing literary excellence by the National Council of Teachers of English.

Chosen from students throughout the state, Becky Beaman, Nora Cerins, and Scott Elrod earned the opportunity to travel in foreign countries through the Indiana University Honors Program.

Auditioning along with many city students, Tracey Horth became the first and only high school vocalist to appear with the Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra.

Scott Elrod was selected to receive the 1975 Bausch and Lomb Honorary Science Award for excellence in science and math.

The Art Department faculty chose Don Butrum and Lewis Walton for scholarships to Herron Art School.

Fads, issues, styles, events distinguish '76

Mood rings, Pet Rocks, and turquoise jewelry swept through the school in waves of popularity.

Boots, Coolie jackets, and "big" sweaters, worn for both style and warmth, were among the fashion distinctions of the '75-'76 school year. Levi jeans and corduroys continued to be the fashion staple for guys. Mood rings with stones that changed color as the wearer's feelings changed and necklaces of shells and turquoise were popular accessories for both sexes.

In addition to the universal pastime of gossiping, students discussed the in-the-news topics of food and fuel shortages, forced busing, and the changing curfew hours. Students also argued the legalization of abortion, the court case of Karen Quinlan, and the struggle in Angola.

Golfers defeat two;11th place in City better

Capturing tenth out of sixteen places in the City Tourney was an improvement over last year's twelfth placing, as the 1975 golf team finished the season with a 2-8 dual meet record.

Sophomore Brad Drake and senior Corby Bain led the team during the Tourney with rounds of 86 and 88, respectively. The linksters won two consecutive matches against Attucks and Washington. Bain was the medalist in the match with Attucks as he shot a 9-hole total of 40. Drake was close behind with a 41, and senior Alan Kurasz finished with a 43. The team total of 230 was the lowest score of the year posted by the golfers.

The team members also included senior Terry Brooks and sophomores David Kelly and Doug McKay.

Rockets win opener with little experience

Starting the 1975 spring season on a good note, the Broad Ripple tennis team defeated Wood by a margin of 3-2. However, a lack of experienced returning players led to a disappointing season record for the Rockets.

"Basically they're average players competing against pretty outstanding competition," commented Coach William Sirka. In the latter part of the season, the team was shut out three consecutive matches.

The team, with a record of 3-5-1, was led by junior Ned Keefe with an individual record of 6-4. Ned was undefeated in his first six matches. Those who received letters were Keefe, Brandon Sommers, Bobby Spudic, Kraig Parson, Doug Wieneke, and Richard Marks.

Team breaks four records; Ninth in City best for Dosey

Breaking four records and placing ninth out of sixteen teams in the City Meet highlighted the season for the 2-7 track team as the 1975 season ended.

The ninth place finish in the City Meet was the best showing since Earl Dosey, head coach, had been with the team. During the City Meet, senior Greg Garrett set a school record of 49.6 seconds in the 440 yard dash. The freshmen 880 relay team, consisting of Isaac Hood, Daryl Johnson, Gerald Metzger, and Stanley Woodard, posted a new school time of 11:01.

Freshman Mark Harney broke two school records in the meet against Scecina and Ritter. In the mile and a half and two mile runs, Harney established times of 7:41 and 11:01, respectively.

Coach Dosey, in describing the season, said that the team gained valuable experience although the record did not show it. The Rocket members participated in the Pike relays this season for the first time and finished in fourth place out of six teams.

PRACTICE MAKES PERFECT ... With Assistant Coach Gene Payne timing him, Mark Harney keeps himself in record-breaking form. Harney broke two records during the season.

Four runners race to place

Highlighting the Cross Country season was the Rockets' romp over Shortridge, 22-33. Four Broad Ripple runners placed in the first five positions of the match, with Mark Harney, Greg Spudic, David Boyd, and Doug Wieneke placing first, second, third, and fifth, respectively.

"Overall, due to a young team and loss of returning lettermen transferring to other schools, this year's Cross Country members had a poor season," stated Coach Gene Payne.

Starting the season off with a victory, the harriers defeated Ritter by 21 points as Harney placed first. The team lost the next five outings before rebounding against Shortridge. The Rockets then finished second in a Tri-Meet with Marshall and Chatard.

Out of approximately 150 competitors in the City Meet at Riverside Park, Harney placed 16th, Boyd 32nd and Spudic 50th. The Rocket team placed 12th out of 16 teams represented.

At the Northwest Invitational, five Ripple runners competed. They were George Brown, Boyd, Harney, Richard Tensmeyer, and Spudic. Leading the way were Harney and Boyd of the Sophomore Division, placing 11th and 23rd respectively out of 70 competitors.

Ripple pounds Ritter twice as season ends

Sweeping a doubleheader from Ritter, Coach Ed Freije's Rocket baseball team completed its season with a record of 10 wins, 11 losses.

Traveling to Terre Haute, the team lost its first three games of the season to West Vigo, Terre Haute Schulte, and Terre Haute North, the defending state champion. All three of these teams were rated in the state's top 20. This was the longest road trip of the season.

In the first round of the City Tournament the Rockets easily defeated Deaf School, 15-3. However, in the second round, state-ranked Marshall eliminated Ripple by a score of 11-7. Ripple played aggressive ball until the end.

Bill Drake was the "winingest" pitcher on the team with a record of 5-3 and an Earned Run average of 2.5. John Reuter and Paul Butcher combined for a 5-4 record.

Proving the most consistent with the bat, Kenny Woods had the highest batting average on the team with Kip Kleinschmidt finishing second and David DeBruler third.

Power from four players successfully combined to give the team a total of five home runs. Kleinschmidt hit two, and Ross Smith, Wayne Speckman, and Ray Washington each hit one.

SAFE ... A cloud of dust rises from around home plate as Kip Kleinschmidt slides under the tag from his Manual opponent to score Ripple's fourth run. The Rockets won the game played on their own field by a score of 5-3.

Sweet Rocket dream is Scecina nightmare

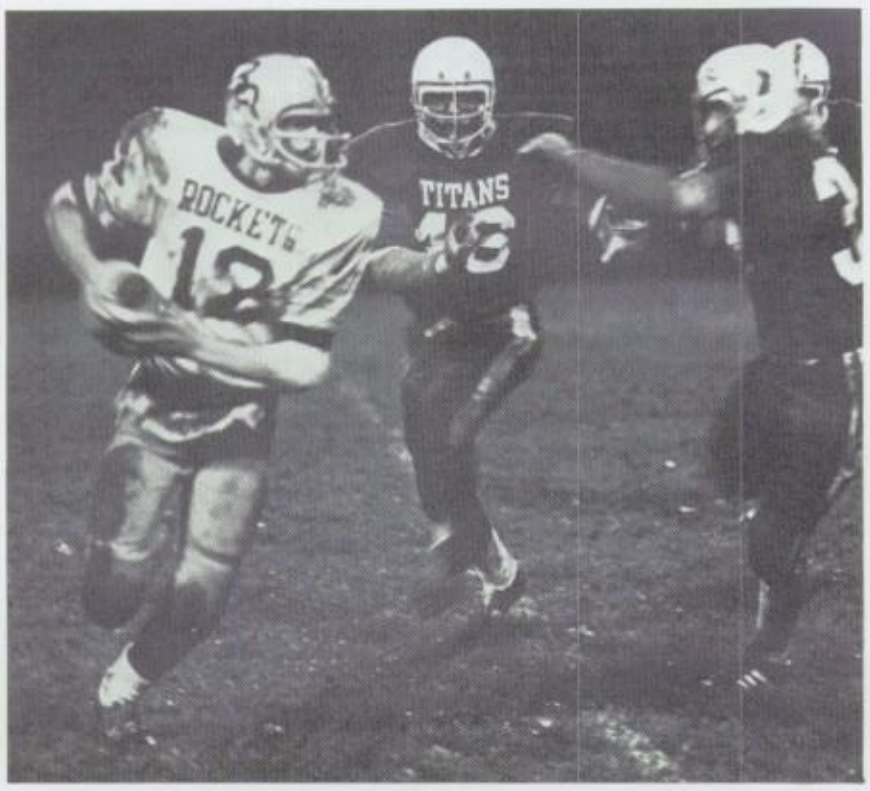
A persevering Rocket defense stopped a Scecina drive inches from the goal line to preserve a 10-7 Ripple lead and victory. Scecina had a first down and goal to go from the Broad Ripple three yard line with just under two minutes left in the game. Ripple's defense tightened and held its opponents scoreless.

Marshall discovered 'hard times' when matched up with Broad Ripple this season. The Rockets first defeated Marshall in the Jamboree and 20-6 in regular season play. During this game, Vernon Horton ran 70 yards for a touchdown and longest run from scrimmage this year.

Despite North Central's 20-6 conquest of Broad Ripple, the Rockets played to a 6-6 tie into the third quarter. The state-ranked Panthers tallied two fourth quarter touchdowns for the victory.

Sporting a three game losing streak going into their Homecoming battle with Manual, the Ripple team members ended the streak with a shutout over Manual, 14-0.

Fifteen touchdowns were posted by the offense this season with tailback Tom Kleinschmidt racking up five, and tight-end Markevin Dillard scoring four.



ROLLING RIGHT . . . Three Tech Titans pursue quarterback John Reuter as he runs to the right sideline in search of a receiver. Reuter's pass fell short, and Ripple was forced to turn the ball over. Tech pounded the host Rockets by a score of 36-16.

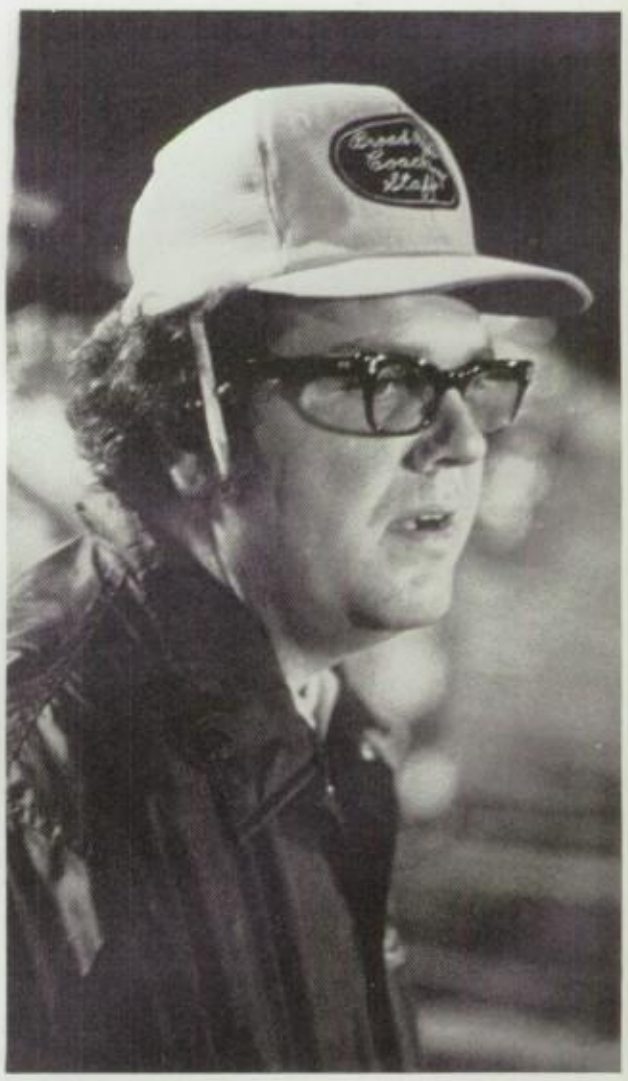
STRETCH THOSE BODIES . . . Coaches John Tremain and Dick Orban (below) supervise the warm-up exercises before the Homecoming game with Manual. The Rockets were warmed up as they defeated Manual, 14-0.

Outstanding performances during the year by junior Tom Kleinschmidt enabled him to have a position on THE INDIANAPOLIS STAR All-City team as defensive tackle.

Senior Markevin Dillard, and juniors Lloyd Clemmons and Wayne Speckman received Honorable Mention. Kleinschmidt, Dillard, and senior Raul Jiminez received mention from THE INDIANAPOLIS NEWS.

At the annual fall sports banquet, in November, the coaching staff voted Kleinschmidt Most Valuable Player. Senior Albert Merriweather won the John S. Lyman Award, presented to the outstanding lineman during the season. Brad Taylor, senior, was awarded the Kiwanis Scholar-Athlete Award by the downtown club.

Under the direction of second year coach Rodney Clark, the reserve team compiled a 4-5 record. The freshman team finished the season with no wins and seven losses, which killed their chance for a successful campaign.



C'MON DEFENSE . . . Hoping for a good defensive effort, Coach Dick Orban waits for the result of a third down Chatard play. Ripple lost to Chatard, 13-0.

WATCH FOR THE RUN . . . The Rocket defense (above) prepares itself for a first down play by the Manual Redskins in the first quarter of the Homecoming game. The defense stopped Manual most of the evening as the Rockets won the annual contest.

Rockets blast Tech from top state ranking

Number one state-ranked Tech was dethroned from its top spot by Broad Ripple in the semi-finals of the City Tournament. The Rockets knocked off Tech again in a rematch at Market Square arena before a crowd of more than 6,000. Two scoring blasts of 37 and 33 points by the city's leading scorer Michael Woodson, ignited the Rockets to both conquests of Tech.

During the four City Tourney games played by Ripple, Woodson tabulated 127 points which was three short of the tourney record held by George McGinnis. Woodson and Don Cox were named to both THE INDIANAPOLIS STAR and NEWS All-City Basketball teams.

Broad Ripple competed in the Richmond Tournament over the Christmas Holidays. After breezing past Union County, Ripple captured the Tourney trophy handily defeating eighteenth state-ranked Richmond by 15 points.

Arlington proved to be a competitive foe against Broad Ripple in not only the City Tourney, but also in regular season play. Ripple dealt Arlington a 66-64 overtime loss when Woodson connected on a long jumper at the sound of the final buzzer.

Broad Ripple broke two records during its 130-54 bombardment of Ritter. The record for the most points scored by a city team in one game of 125 was surpassed, and Woodson broke his own school single game scoring record of 39 as he netted 44 points.

Lawrence Central upset the Rockets in the second round of the Sectional. Woodson was named to the All-Sectional team.

Rockets fall to defeat twice; Team wins next five games

TWO . . . Don Cox leaps high over his Tech defender for two points in City Tourney action at Howe. Ripple won 65-60.

Losing the first two games of the season, the 9-7 reserves picked up the next five games. After winning their first season contest over the Chatard Trojans 29-19, the Rockets defeated Bloomington South, Northwest, Cathedral, and Terre Haute South.

Matched up with Marshall during the first round of the City Tourney, the team trailed by four points during most of the game. With a final spark, the Rockets defeated the Patriots. Meeting Scecina in the second round, the team lost and settled for fourth in the Tourney.

The Freshman Basketball team members compiled a somewhat disappointing season record. After losing three close games in overtime play, Coach Rodney Clark commented, "We did not take advantage when we were ahead."

The Girls' Basketball team endured long hours of practice in preparation for the first Statewide tourney. Broad Ripple defeated Pike, the No. 1 ranked county champs, in the first round but lost to arch rival Shortridge in the second round of the tourney.

Sporting a losing season, the basketball team posted a 6-9 record. Coach William Wallace said, "Though the record doesn't show a winning season, I'm extremely impressed with the team's mental attitude."

The Varsity Volleyball team compiled an impressive 9-5 record during the regular season, after being defeated 2-1 by Ladywood St. Agnes in the first game. All hopes of a City victory were shattered when the team lost to Marshall 0-2 in the first round. The girls suffered a similar disappointment against Scecina in a bid for the Sectional Title.

Organized ballplaying was stressed by Mrs. Jacqueline Cain, girls' volleyball coach, and Mr. Wallace, first year basketball coach. Mrs. Cain and Mr. Wallace agreed that girls' sports are on a more competitive level and that they would like their teams to be able to cope with this competition.

Girls' Tennis and Golf Teams gain interest

Participation in girls team sports increased as the 1975 varsity golf and tennis teams nearly doubled.

A larger schedule with meets against ten county schools provided a challenge for the second year golfers. In preparation for the meets, the girls practiced many hours after school.

Striving for a winning season, the girls suffered disappointment after four consecutive losses to North Central, Carmel, Perry Meridian, and Warren Central.

Increase in the number of tennis players was accompanied by a lack of experience. Coach Jacqueline Cain said, "A couple of the girls had never been on a tennis court before, but I have high hopes for the team returning in 1976."

Despite the enthusiasm shown by the girls, both teams suffered losing seasons.

Baird directs 129 bowlers; Cramer, White lead scoring

Under the supervision of Mr. Frank Baird, 129 boys and girls filled the alleys at Town and Country Bowling lanes on Tuesdays and Thursdays during the winter.

Sixteen teams, composed of 52 girls, participated on Tuesdays. The Miracles, S.V.P., and P.U.G. led the teams in the win-loss category. Vicki Cramer managed to keep a 149 average through most of the competition.

In the boys' league, 77 bowlers made up the 16 teams that competed on Thursdays. The Road Apples, Eskimos, Nite Birds, and Bowling Stones were the team leaders during the season. Howard White, through 16 games, led the boys with a 171 average.

The top 16 boys had two matches with the Brebeuf bowlers. In the first match, Broad Ripple won 33-31. Joe Glazier and Clifton Knight had games of 213 and 210, respectively. Glazier and Knight also had the high three game series with scores of 540 and 521.

Go West and Consumer Econ are favored

In the Social Studies Department, the addition of two new classes, Military History and Early Republic, enlarged the phase elective program. Of the many phase elective classes offered, students seemed to prefer Go West Young Man and Consumer Economics over any of the others. Total student enrollment for the eight classes averaged 28 students per class.

Once again, Mr. Ralph Bedwell, Department Head, and Mrs. Melinda Fairburn, English teacher, teamed up to teach freshmen the concepts of World Civilization and English in a combined class. Projects of the team teaching class included making bulletin boards, model cities, and dioramas.

NHS plans TGFO party

"This year we decided to be an active organization instead of just an honorary one," said Jean Ann Frazer, National Honor Society president.

By organizing at least one project a month, NHS members participated in activities ranging from trick-or-treating for UNICEF to planning a TGFO (Thank God Finals're Over) Party on January 31. Pulitzer prize winning reporter William Anderson of the Indianapolis Star spoke at the November 24 NHS meeting about his in-depth reporting of city police corruption. In cooperation with Orange Aid, NHS also conducted a canned food drive for a needy family during the Christmas holidays. Mrs. Sally Thrasher and Mr. Randall Lechlitner, who replaced Mr. Albert Mahin, served as co-sponsors of NHS.

Student Senate formed an Athletic Promotion Committee to encourage student attendance at games through posters. It also formed a Gardening Committee to pick up litter on the school grounds. Mr. Ralph Bedwell and Mrs. Diane Hall co-sponsored Student Senate.

JHS 'makes American heritage interesting'

"During this America's bicentennial year, JHS tried to make people aware of their interesting heritage and that history is not as dull as it seems," said David James, Junior Historical Society president.

JHS members spent several summer afternoons studying, categorizing, and researching their political campaign button collection which is the fourth largest in the nation. Sponsored by Mr. Robert Eisenbarth, the club also attended the musical "1776", made tombstone rubbings, and kept up a showcase titled "200 Years Ago This Month".

The Third Annual Black Awareness Week from February 16-20 emphasized the role of blacks in the bicentennial. Organized by the Black Awareness Club and Miss Linda Jimison, sponsor, plans included posters throughout the halls, lectures by local speakers, a program by the Celebration Choir, and a fashion show given in March.

A new type of individual study program in Biology 2 classes was initiated by Miss Doris Whipple, a new science teacher. In this program, students signed a contract for the grade they wished to receive and worked at their own pace of study. At midyear, Miss Pauline Willis joined the staff. A wide assortment of plants was cultivated by Eleanor Cline and Pam Corson in the Science Greenhouse, which had not been in use for several years.

Practicing about four hours a week, Exercise-in-Knowledge Teams members began the year with a defeat over Ben Davis, 44-38. Mrs. Doris Isley and Mrs. Sally Hack sponsored the team of seven members.

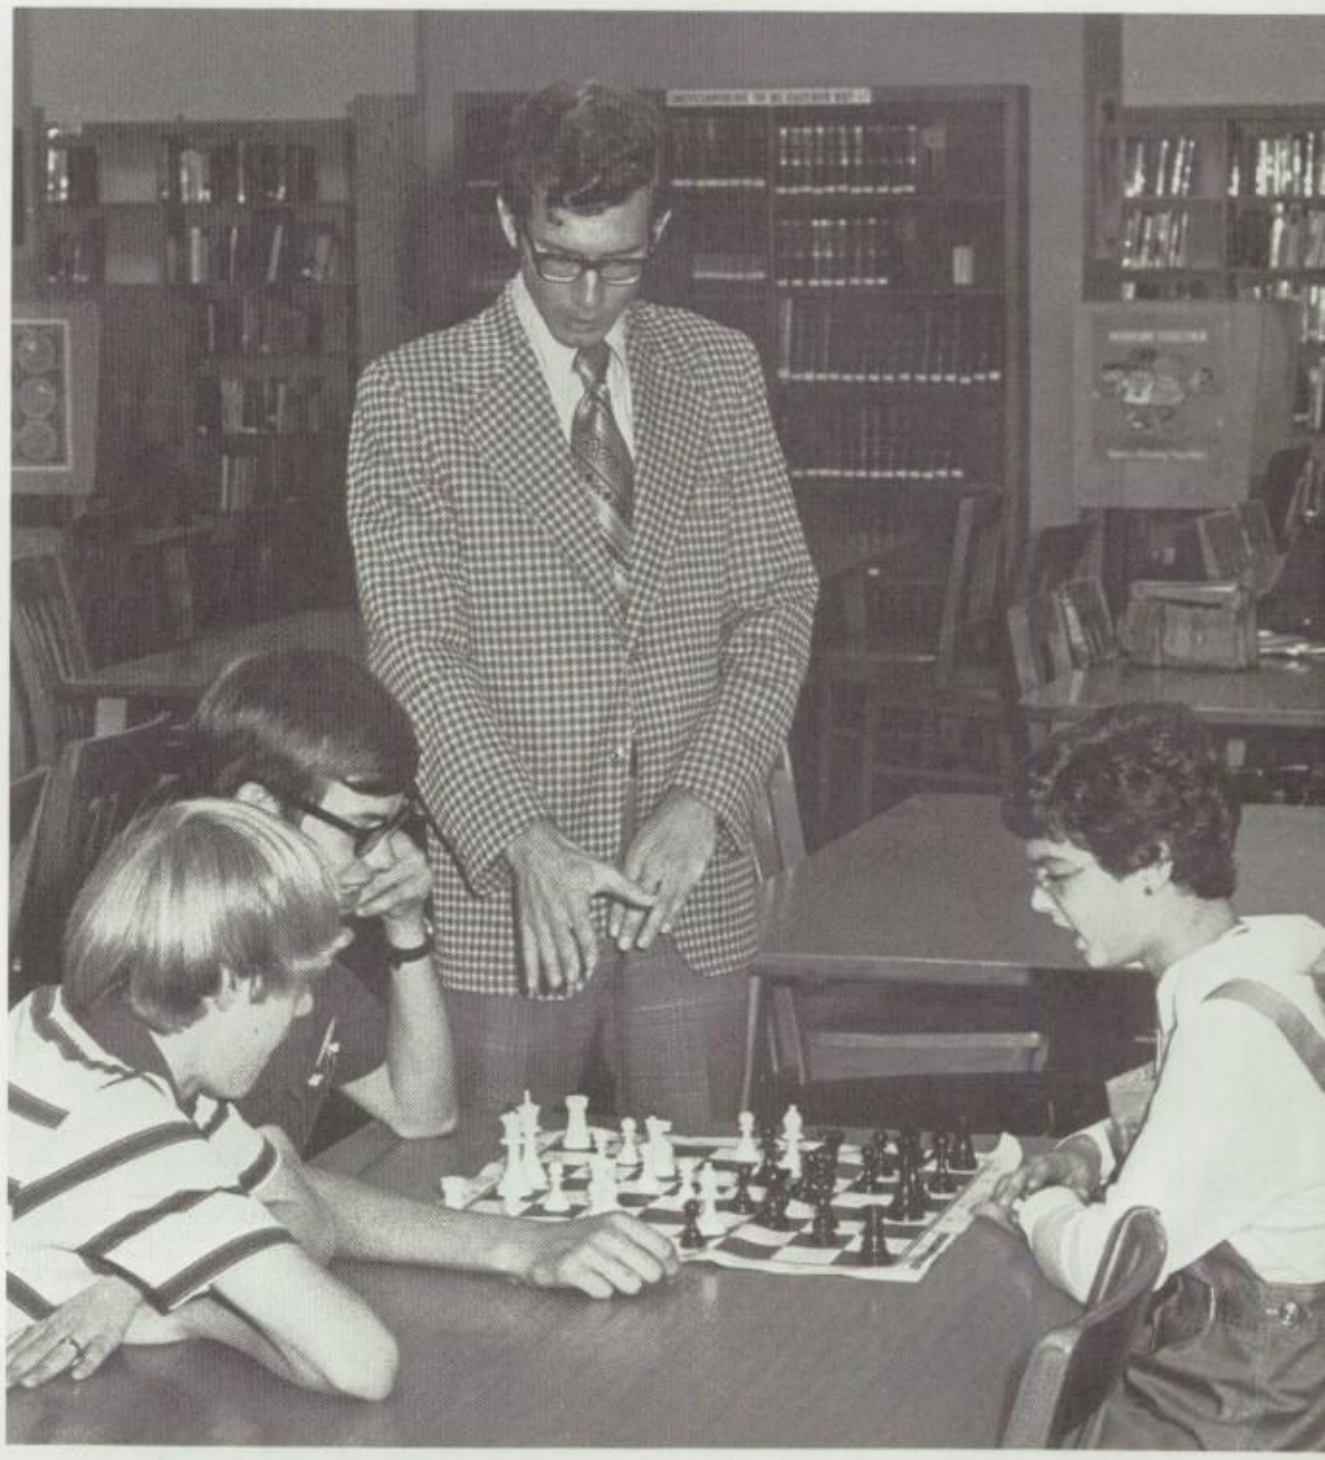
General math course posts high enrollment

General math classes were the most popular in the mathematics curriculum with an enrollment of about 250 students in eight separate classes. In contrast, the computer math course had the smallest enrollment with only 14 students.

All the mathematics classes used new textbooks this year; and according to Mr. Clyde Hochstedler, Math Department Head, the books were well received by teachers in the Math Department. "This," he said, "is unusual."

Spring math classes observed demonstrations of Broad Ripple's computer and its operation. The program, headed by Mr. Randall Lechlitner, computer math instructor, was designed to familiarize students with the computer and the computer math course.

Mr. Lechlitner, Chess Club sponsor, commented, "We had to rebuild the Chess Club this year because we lost many of our top players." The club played in matches with 13 other high schools around the city from October to March and participated in the State Chess Tournament at the end of March.



While practicing their game tactics, at a Chess Club meeting, Andy Wallace, secretary-treasurer, Richard Tensmeyer, vice-president, and Carrie Cox, president, are given advice on a strategic move by Mr. Randall Lechlitner, Chess Club sponsor.

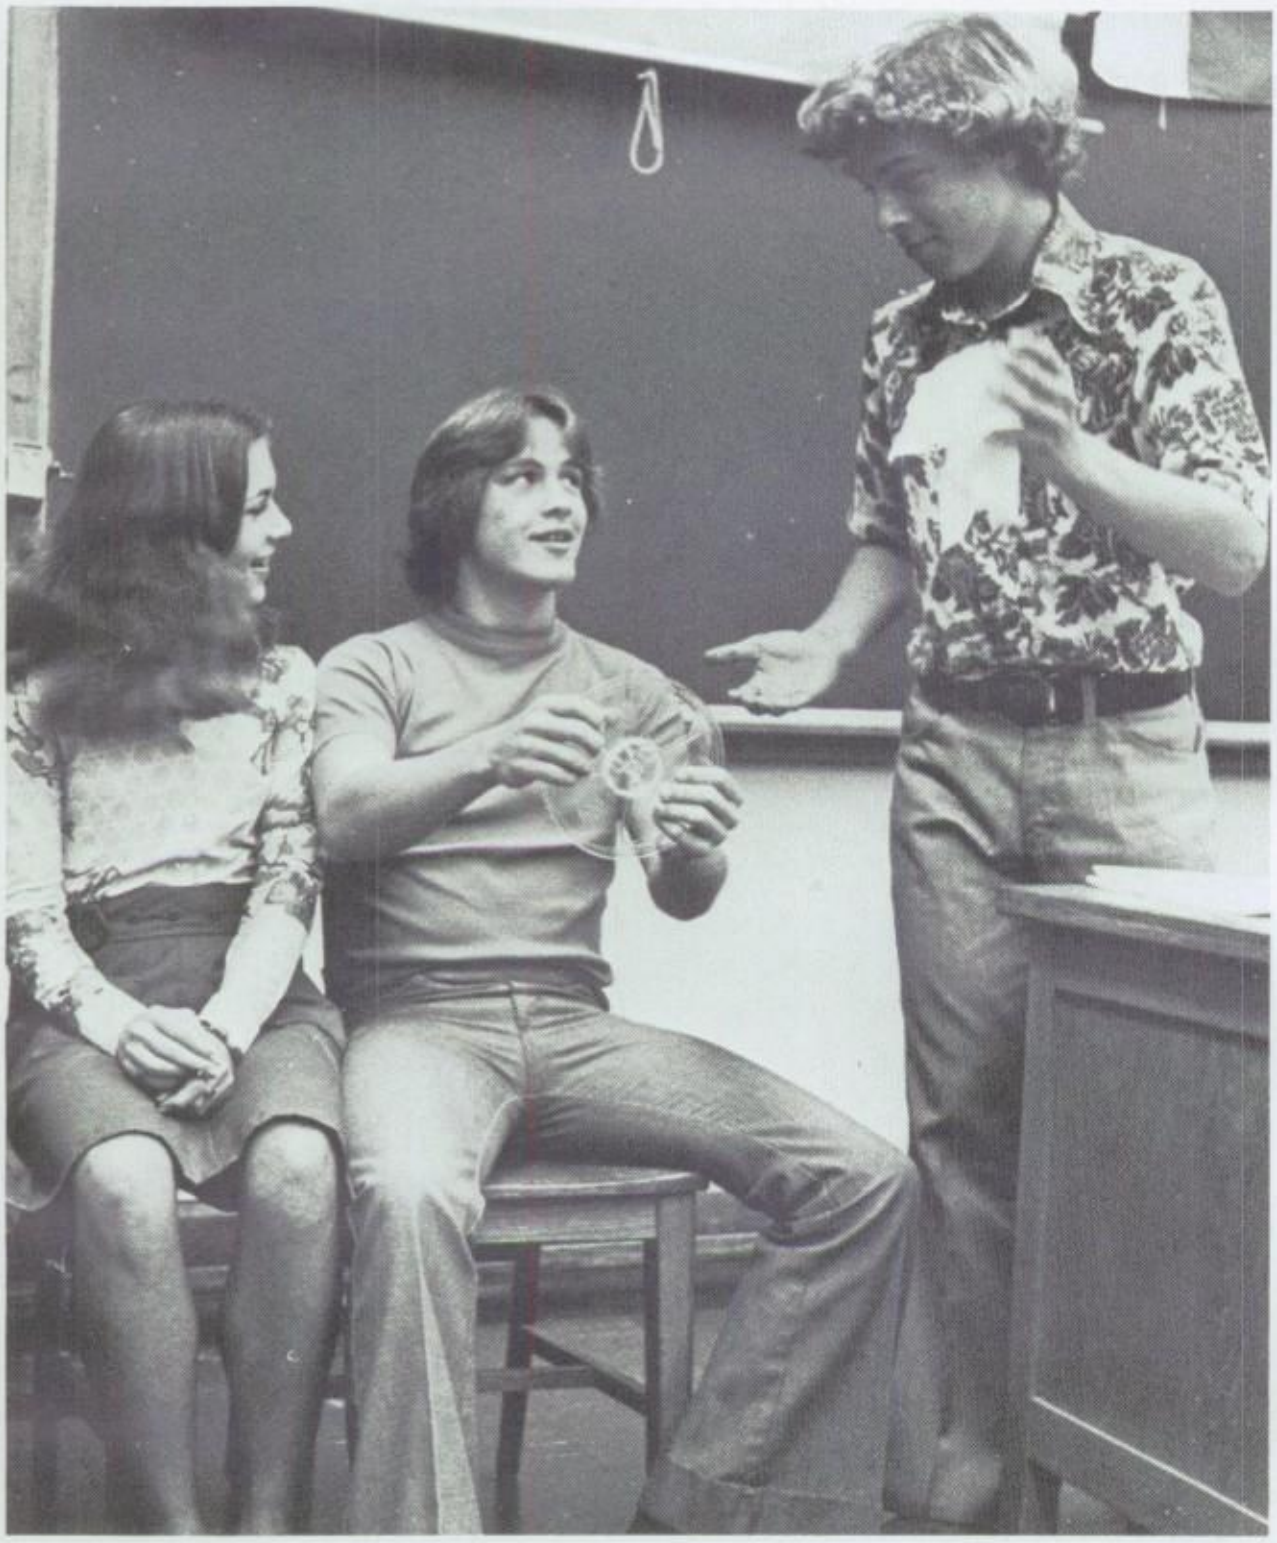
Fall language courses added for freshmen



Last fall the Foreign Language Department added second level French and Spanish courses to its curriculum. Freshmen who had studied foreign languages in junior high and were above level one but below level three could take these classes.

Through color slides of their travels to foreign countries, Becky Beaman, Scott Elrod, and Nora Cerins brought back the thrill and excitement of France and Mexico to the French and Spanish classes. They spoke about the Indiana University Honors program, the program which allowed them to study and travel in these foreign countries.

Advanced German students were given opportunities to do extra-credit projects which linked their respective hobbies with German culture. The projects included sewing a dirndl, a native German costume; and baking a torte, a many thin-layered cake. Celebrating the bicentennial, German students reported on German words adapted into the English language.

Latin class activities included working crossword puzzles and playing bingo in Latin. Using both Latin and English, the students presented skits combining ancient and modern Roman customs.

The Latin Club, sponsored by Mrs. Kathryn Burks, completed 75 gruelling laps in a state-wide Bicentennial Chariathon on November 8. The only Indianapolis Public School entrant, the team consisted of two pullers and one rider for whom substitutions could be made whenever a participant tired. Sponsors pledged 10 cents for each lap completed, and the club received a percentage of the money. The remainder of the profits went to the reconstruction of a Roman home which will be a unique museum as well as the National Center for Pompeiiana Inc., an organization to promote the study of Latin in high schools.

Working towards a trip to Mexico, the new Spanish Club, sponsored by Senora Betty Walsman, engaged in several profit-making projects. At home basketball games the club members checked coats for 25 cents apiece. They also sold candy and booster badges which said "Rocket Power".

Saint Nikolaus paid a surprise visit to the new German Club, sponsored by Fraulein Christie Tochterman, at its Christmas party. Monthly meetings included dinner at the Hansel and Gretel, the sampling of pastr es at the Heidelberg restaurant, and the viewing of a German film at the Rivoli Theater.

Singing French carols to neighbors in below freezing weather, and enjoying the traditional Bouche de Noel (a log-shaped cake) added notably to the French Club's Christmas party. The club, sponsored by both Mademoiselle Silvijia Dzelme and Mademoiselle Tochterman, also purchased T-shirts that said "Embrasse-moi, je parle francais" ("Kiss me, I speak French").

The four language clubs assembled for several occasions. The Spanish Club started off the festivities with a fiesta at Christmas-time, where tacos and Mexican wedding cakes were served. The French Club's Mardi Gras celebration followed, and the Latin Club invited the others to a Roman banquet in April. Because of a late start, the German Club was unable to plan an affair for the others.

SPANISH CLUB OFFICERS—Pam Corson, vice-president; Kathy Bucher, president; Kelley Vaughn, secretary; and Fawn Kimbrough, treasurer.

English Department stresses writing skills

The major emphasis was on writing, according to Mrs. Doris Bradford, English Department Head. "Students became more serious in their election of courses," said Mrs. Bradford. Classes had additional writing assignments. The enrollment in Research Seminar and Expository Writing increased five times.

English classes pursued their interests on various field trips. Mr. Michael Hendren's Stage Craft and Make-up class viewed programs at Clowes Hall, Indiana Repertory Theater, and Beef and Boards. While studying a unit called You, Law, and The Police, Miss Linda Jimison's Black Literature class visited the Police station. Mrs. Doris Isley's World Literature class toured the Art Museum.

Second Semester American Studies, U.S. History, and art classes participated in a Cooperative Humanities program. This program taught the interrelation of the social sciences, art, and literature. Departments purchased the Art and Man magazine for this special purpose.

Ripple's debate team participated in the Bicentennial Youth Debates sponsored by a grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities. It participated in events such as Lincoln-Douglas Debate, Extemporaneous Speaking, and Persuasive Speaking.

Career Center offers jobs to students

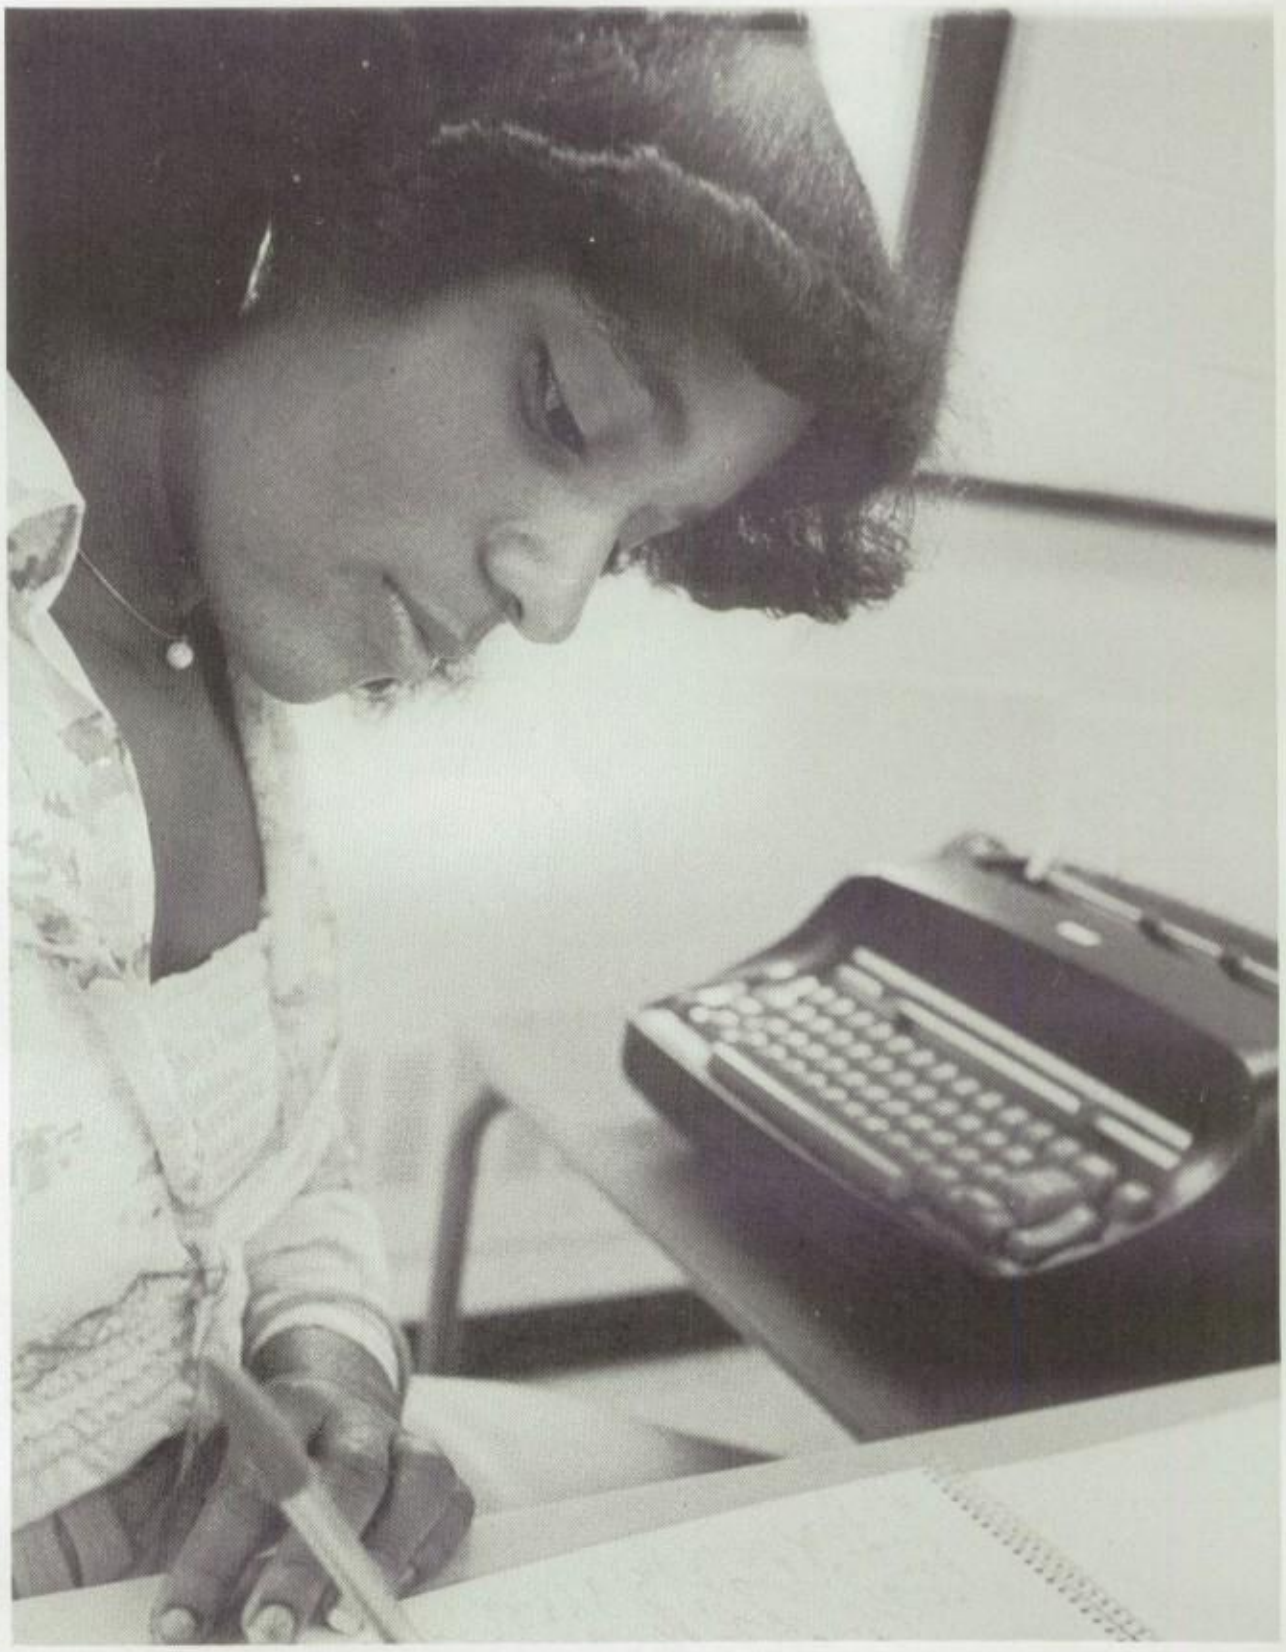
Cooperating with the Business Education Department, the federally-funded Career Center offered students a wide range of vocational information, job placement, and career counseling.

Intensive Office Lab students developed office skills by working through "work stations" or copies of actual business positions. Sponsored by Mrs. Karla Erwin, IOL was restricted to juniors with senior credits and seniors with two semesters of typing.

Cooperative Office Education, directed by Mrs. Betty Beene, offered combined classroom study and on-the-job training.

DECA, sponsored by Mrs. Meriam Oldham, offered a program designed to appeal to students interested in selling, marketing, advertising, and merchandising.



Patrina Holder, Advanced Shorthand student, concentrates on her shorthand as the teacher dictates a letter.

Newsmagazine sells, displays personal ads

In special sections of the Riparian's Christmas and Valentine's Day Issues, students and teachers greeted friends and relatives through personal ads. For the first time the Newsmagazine staff sold mums for Homecoming. They also sold The History of Broad Ripple.

The student body requested more human interest stories and puzzles in the Newsmagazine. To comply with student demand, Riparian issues featured profiles of students who had interesting hobbies or special talent. More puzzles were also added.

The Newsmagazine staff took several surveys this year. Staffers interviewed students on subjects such as abortion, alcohol, and marijuana. A radio station was heard quoting Ripple's alcohol survey after its publication.

An outstanding staffer was recognized for every issue with the staff's traveling trophy. The staffer who won it passed it on to the next hardest worker.

Staffers view 1976 Riparian optimistically

Eager yearbook staffers returned to school in the fall with an optimistic view of the 1976 Riparian. Taking and retaking underclass and organization pictures, changing the theme, and meeting the never-ending deadlines provided some of the many crisis for the Riparian yearbook.

Riparian staffers fled the routine grind by attending summer workshops at Indiana and Ball State Universities. Thirty yearbook and newsmagazine staffers traveled to Chicago for the National Journalism Convention. Staffers showed their talents at Greater Indianapolis Press Day at Northwest High School, where they competed in numerous journalistic contests.

Quill and Scroll, sponsored by Mrs. Ruth Marie Griggs, inducted five new senior members at the annual fall induction ceremony. Now the first time in years, motivated Quill and Scroll members entered a homecoming float.

Staffers Cheryl Bostick, Ike Hood, Marlene Mordoh, Pam Ritchey, and Martha Reeder work together to beat a deadline.

Ripplites are created equal; women join Lettermen's Club

All Ripplites are created equal, at least as far as the Broad Ripple Lettermen's Club is concerned. Fourteen girls received letters and became the first females in the Lettermen's Club, sponsored by Mr. Edward Freije. Letterpersons served the Athletic Department by assisting at the basketball games. Duties of the athletes included holding ropes and sweeping the court during half time.

Key Club, under the direction of Mr. Warren Jackson, provided manpower and paint to the locomotive in Broad Ripple Park. Orange Aid and Key Club combined efforts to give the Bicentennial Ballroom Blitz, the first jointly sponsored Christmas dance at the Marott Hotel.

Equal rights for pupils invade curriculum

Equal rights for men came to the clothing classes this year with Lawrence Bussel being the first male in Ripple's history to enroll in a clothing class. "Since I am the only male in my family, I am accused of being useless in the home economics field. So I set out to prove that I could do anything that women can do," said Bussel. After seeing his work Mrs. Hilda Rolle, Home Economics Department Head, said that she would like to see an all male clothing class in Ripple's future.

As a special project students in Foods 2 served a luncheon to the School Board, Association of Parents and Teachers officers, and Principal William E. Jones. The class was responsible for preparing, cooking, and serving the meal.

Girls invaded the auto mechanics field when the Powder Puff Mechanics course was added to the curriculum. The class teaches basic auto skills and information. Girls are given opportunities to work, experiment with, and repair automobiles.

On July 17 the two top students in Advanced Power Mechanics entered the 27th annual Trouble Shooting Contest sponsored by Indianapolis Public Schools and Chrysler Plymouth at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway. The boys competed with contestants from 33 other schools on accuracy and speed in repairing an auto.

With the new Sign-Graver installed in room 117 industrial arts students learned to make plastic signs for rooms and offices in the building.

With enthusiasm, Patricia Walker and Paula Hopson repair an auto in Powder Puff Mechanics.

Girls attain high positions

Two girls displayed outstanding leadership as they secured high positions in the ROTC chain of command. Lt. Paula Hopson became Indianapolis' first female Battalion Commander, while Maj. Linda Townsend became part of the executive Brigade Staff. In this position, Linda was second in command over the Indianapolis ROTC.

Physical education classes ran on a co-ed basis in which boys and girls met weekly to participate in team sports. Advanced Physical Education was again offered as an intramural class for juniors and seniors.

The Health classes featured several guest speakers. They included persons from The Association for Retarded Children and Indiana Health Careers.

VARSITY CHEERLEADERS—(Clockwise) Cheryl Hampton, Lisa Elliott, Tina Dorsey, Lisa Fasig, Toni Martin, Vicky Jones, and Christine Stepp.

Cheerleaders earn awards

Competing against 500 girls, the Varsity and Junior Varsity cheerleading squads brought home three awards from the Golden Eagle Cheerleading Clinic at Wittenberg University in Springfield, Ohio.

The Varsity squad was chosen as the outstanding squad and received a first place squad trophy and plaque. Together the Varsity and Junior Varsity cheerleaders received one "superior", four "excellent", and one "outstanding" ribbon, along with the spirit megaphone for having the most spirit of all the participating squads.

Varsity and Junior Varsity cheerleaders also provided two summer workshops at Ripple for incoming freshmen girls wishing to try out for the squad in the fall.

Pepettes support basketball, football one hundred per cent

The Pep Clubbers supported the basketball and football teams one hundred per cent at every game. Their job didn't end there though. Between games the Pep Club members boosted school spirit, too. They promoted games by mounting posters in the halls and urging students to go and cheer the team on to victory.

The Pep Club girls also sold candles at Christmas time to raise money. The money was needed to buy uniforms and cards for the card section next year.

Half-time at the football and basketball games brought on the Rockettes who performed their routines to the music provided by the band. Not only did they rouse the spirit of the crowd, but they provided an interesting scene for the girl watchers present. Practicing approximately 50 hours during the year, the Rockettes worked to improve their timing and accuracy skills.

Sheryl Charleston, Stephanie Davis and Jackie Butler boost school spirit for an upcoming game by making a poster.

Craft design class creates ceramic mural

The bicentennial spirit flourished in the Art Department. Student activities ranged from lettering revolutionary quotations to constructing a model of a revolutionary town.

Craft design students created a bicentennial mural picturing Broad Ripple and Indianapolis. They used ½ inch thick ceramic tiles. The mural was designed for the walls of the entrance to the Learning Materials Center.

Advanced Ceramics learned a Korean technique called Raku firing. In this unique method a clay pot is taken out of the kiln, rolled in sawdust, left to smoke, then put in cold water. The finished pot appears cracked and discolored.

Art classes pursued their interests on various trips. Craft Design 3, traveled to De Pauw University to observe its art department and projects, while ceramics classes visited a ceramic shop.

Music students develop deeper appreciation

A deeper understanding and appreciation of both vocal and instrumental music was gained by students in the Music Department.

This year, the Orchestra participated in the production of "Kiss Me Kate" providing the right music to set the mood. Along with the rest of the Music Department, the Orchestra participated in a bicentennial program given for the students of Broad Ripple.

Students found Clef Club a great way to gain musical experience and appreciation. All Clef Clubbers on different occasions entertained at the meetings. On a hayride, at Eagle Creek Park Oct. 25, the members enjoyed an evening of singing and roasting marshmallows around the fire.

Music Theory offered students an opportunity to improve their skills in harmonizing melodies and analyzing the music of others. During the second semester the students were required to compose their own melodies.

Majorettes twirl to top forty

Twirling to top forty songs as well as special selections, the Baton Corps provided half-time entertainment for each home football and basketball game. One well-received special performance involved twirling to "Rock Around the Clock" with the seven majorettes adorned in 1950 fashions.

In addition to half-time performances, the Corps participated in the Homecoming, Veteran's Day and 500 Mile Parades, and in a United States Twirling Association contest, receiving a first place award.

The Band began a fund-raising campaign in February to replace the eleven-year-old uniforms. Selected Band members played in the Pit Orchestra for "Kiss Me, Kate". Seven musicians were chosen to represent BRHS in the Solo Ensemble Contest. Two subdivisions of the Band were the Pep Band, who raised spirit at games, and the Jazz Band, who played Louis Armstrong music.

Ripple singers outnumber others in choirs

The Music Department began plans for the 1975-76 school year with an announcement of 60 students in Golden Singers. Out of those members, 25 participated in All-City Choir and nine in All-State Choir, outnumbering any other school in Indianapolis.

Madrigals' 16 members purchased new outfits. For the girls, these consisted of light blue dresses with matching shoes. The boys purchased black tuxedos with light blue shirts. Madrigals performed in many programs including one for Maennerchor, a distinguished men's vocal group of Indianapolis.

Swing Choir in its third year at BRHS, was an informal group of 24. They sang contemporary music with choreography in colorful costumes.

Girls perform on the Circle

Rippleaires performed for various organizations, such as the Cerebral Palsy Clinic and the Meadowlark Homemakers, and participated in the Monument Circle festivities during the Christmas season. The group's new outfits, blue and off-white jumpers with contrasting blouses, provided a bicentennial look for the 1976 year.

Concert Club was also actively involved in programs which included singing at the Circle and appearing in the All-City Girls' Choral Festival. "The groups are the best in years," stated Mrs. Lucinda Paul, director of the girls' groups.

Rocketaires took part in the All-City Boys' Choral Festival and also performed at the Circle under the direction of Mr. Gene Poston, Music Department Head.

Club memberships increase

The International Thespian Troupe 1170 and Masque and Mime Society hit all-time high memberships with approximately 50 and 75 members, respectively. The two organizations, sponsored by Mrs. Dolly Davis, jointly had a Halloween party in the fall and a picnic in the spring. The Thespian play, "Charley's Aunt," originally scheduled for February 5 and 6, was rescheduled for the following weekend due to bad weather.

The Off Broad Ripple Company, also sponsored by Mrs. Davis, performed at approximately 15 different schools, churches, and theaters during the school year. In order to project a bicentennial theme, OBRC made new costumes consisting of red and white shirts and homemade blue pants.

Faculty plans for NCA visit

Because Ripple is to be evaluated next November by the North Central Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges, faculty members worked on committees in preparation for this visitation.

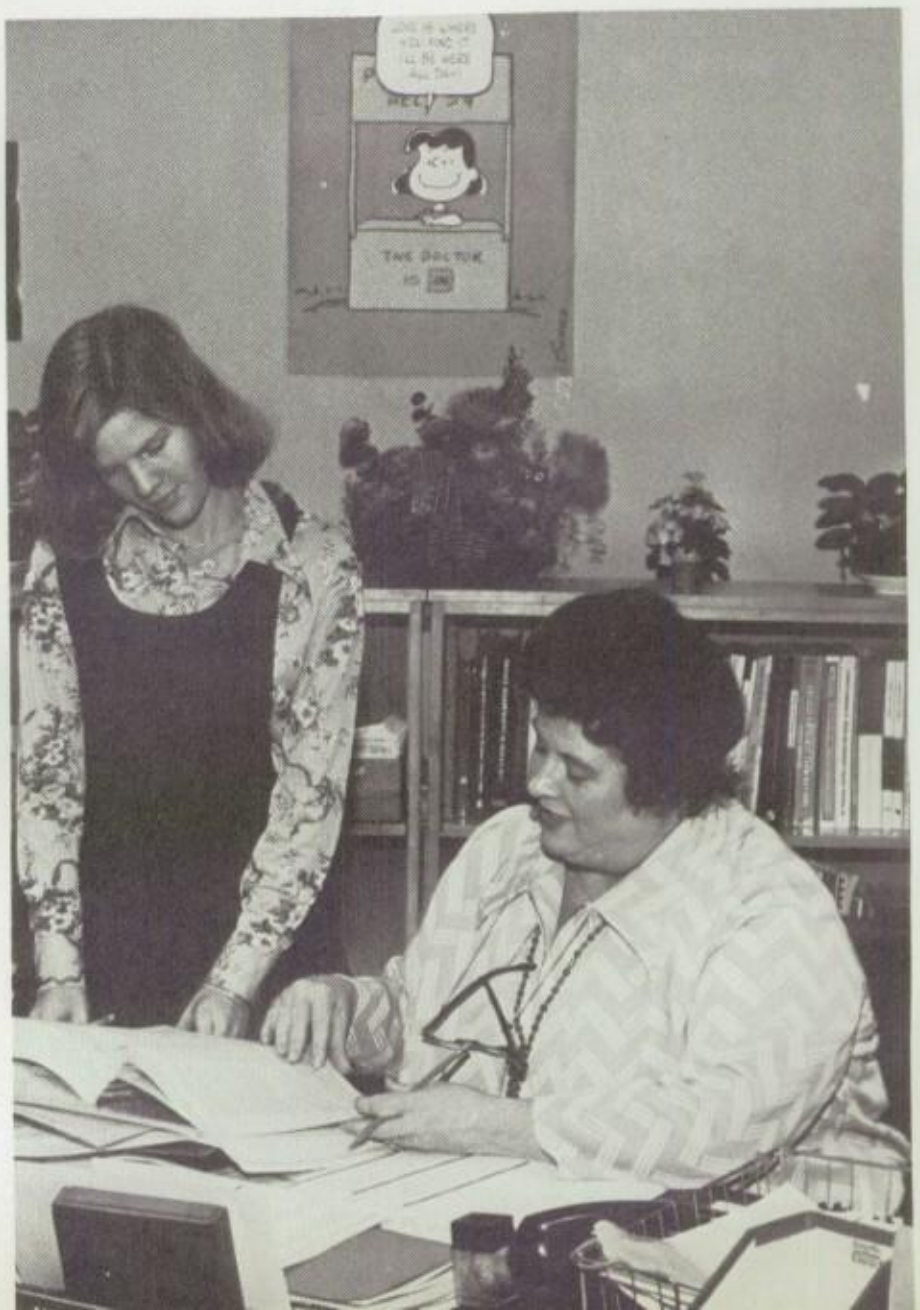
Mrs. Shirley Loyd and Mrs. Doris Isley served as co-chairmen of the Steering Committee.

Mrs. Marilyn Dearing headed the School and Community Committee. Other members were Mrs. Mary Hogg, Mrs. Betty Beene, Mr. Dan Gallagher, and Mr. Tommie Curlin.

The Philosophy and Objectives Committee, chaired by Mrs. Melinda Fairburn, included Mrs. Sally Thrasher, Mrs. Betty Walsman, Mr. Charles Reeder, Mr. Dale Hamner, Mr. Sheldon Kantor, and Mr. William E. Jones.

Mr. Tommie Curlin, Mr. William Jones, and Mr. Robert Casey greet faculty members each morning. Mr. Jones is now a Danforth Fellow, an honorary education group.

Sharing an inside joke, Miss Barbara Vargo and Mrs. Diana Hall, counselors, pause for a moment of laughter.



Mrs. Marilyn Dearing, Director of Counseling, shows Linda Payne information on colleges.

Mrs. Sally Thrasher, counselor, checks information concerning the new tardiness policy with Mrs. Shirley Loyd, Dean of Girls.

BR welcomes new teachers

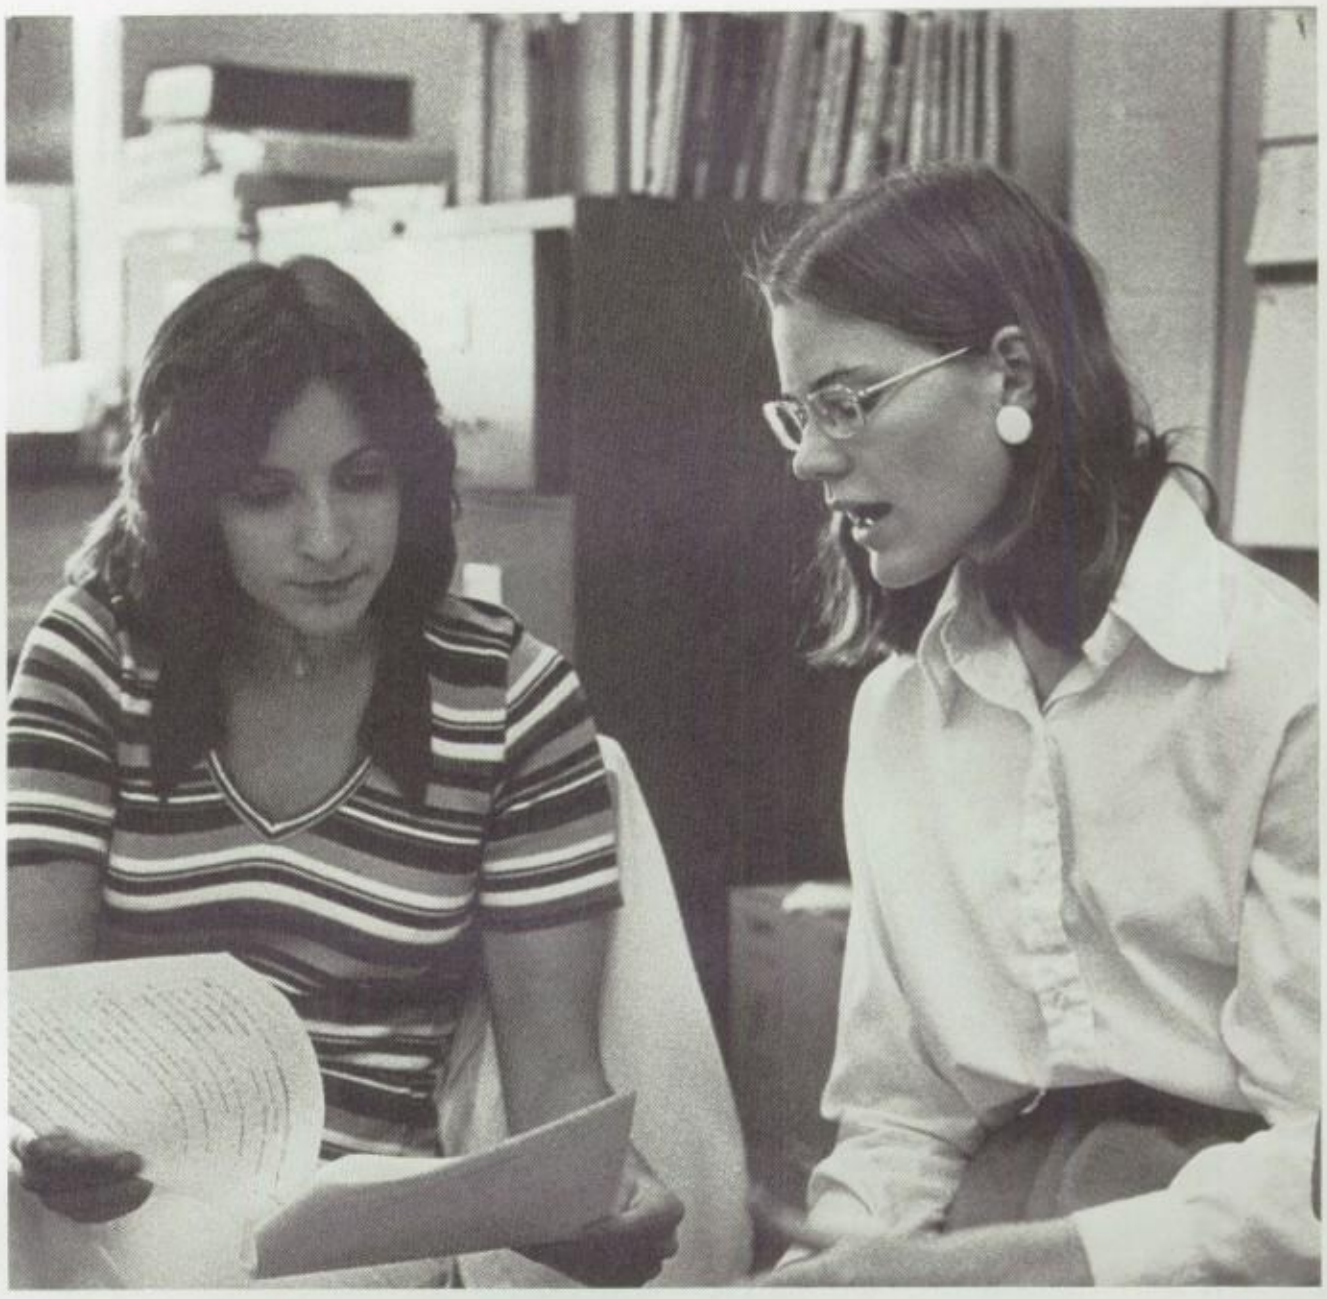
Among 16 teacher replacements, past experience ranged greatly. Five were beginning teachers, five had past experience in elementary schools, and three at other high schools. One had taught at Day Adult School, and one had been a teacher of the deaf in Maryland.

The faculty engage in many out-of-the ordinary pastimes. Miss Phyllis Martin, home economics teacher, enjoys working with her 200 rose bushes. Miss Silvija Dzelme, Foreign Language Department Head, belongs to the Cheese Lovers International and Les Amis du Vin (Friends of Wine). Mr. Charles Reeder, Industrial Arts Head, is an avid Road Rallyer.



Mrs. Susan Conner, News Magazine advisor, looks over copy with Jean Ann Frazer.

Seniors elect 12 for office

Seniors saluted the '75-'76 school year with a series of firsts in Broad Ripple's history. Among those were the formation of the Senior Cabinet and a senior trip to Florida.

Because only six seniors signed up to run for class offices, nominations were taken from the Senior Class and the twelve seniors with the most nominations became members of the Senior Cabinet. Later in the semester the Senior Cabinet elected Kent Gray, president; Marion Kelly, vice-president; Lynda Jackson, secretary; and Toni Martin, treasurer, to lead the class.

Forty-one seniors visited Cocoa Beach, Florida, during spring vacation (April 2-9) on the senior trip.

Juniors elect all girls again

It happened again! For the second consecutive time in the school's history, the Junior Class officers were all girls. The executive board consisted of Nikeita Byrdsong, president; Para Lee Jones, vice-president; Gail Davis, secretary; and Debbie Gilbert, treasurer.

Elected last spring, the officers organized the 1976 Junior-Senior Prom, which has been a Broad Ripple tradition since the first Junior-Senior Reception in 1916. They also arranged for the sales of Junior Class rings in November.

In the Freshman Class this year, no Fresh-Aid officers were elected because of lack of interest.

Para Lee Jones, Debbie Gilbert, Gail Davis, and Nikeita Byrdsong discuss plans for the Junior-Senior Prom.

FLY HIGH GOLDEN EAGLE—HILARY VAN UTT

Fly high, Golden Eagle,
fly high, Golden Eagle,
you have a long, long way to home.
Fly fast, Golden Eagle,
fly strong, Golden Eagle,
stay far from the hunters' guns.

You've been with us since this country began so now we repay you with the shot of the gun.
A symbol of the country you've given all you got, you've stood in times of war or the times of peace we've got.
You've been since the beginning, so you've watched the country grow, you've been with the rebels and the presidents we know,
but the city springs around you, you're off to fly again, you gotta find your way home.

Fly high, Golden Eagle,
stay high, Golden Eagle,
you have a long, long way to home.

I love the Golden Eagle,
I admire the Golden Eagle,
please teach me your royal song.
I am the eagle
I fly, I'm the eagle
you sense my presence everyone.
I was the eagle,
but the blood on my feathers shows that now I'm dead and gone.

Fly high, Golden Eagle,
stay high, Golden Eagle,
don't fall like me from their guns.
I've been carried to a home now.
I am the trophy that they've won.

Fly high, Golden Eagle,
stay high, Golden Eagle,
you have a long, long way to home.
Fly fast, Golden Eagle,
fly strong, Golden Eagle,
stay far from the hunters' gun,
for you have a long, long way to home.

Sights and sounds of the 1976 yearbook office . . . numerous unidentifiable papers strewn around on the desks . . . cries of "Who has all of the grease pencils?" . . . take out food bags littering the office during a late night spent meeting a deadline . . . five distraught editors wondering how everything could have been put off for so long . . . Now that the last minute panic is over with, we would like to thank everyone who made "The Sights and Sounds of '76" possible.

Thanks to all of the crazy staffers who put in so much time for the making of this book.

Thank you, Mrs. Ruth Marie Griggs (our mother away from home) for being here when we needed you.

Thank you, Mrs. Susan Conner, for giving the ad staff a guiding light.

Thank you, Charlie and Nancy Chase, for taking (and re-taking) the underclass pictures and for the beautiful job that you did with the senior portraits.

Thank you, Mr. Larry Glaze of Pischel Yearbooks, for all of your patience with us and for all of your type sheets.

And lastly, for putting up with all of the last minute changes and another company's type sheets, thank you, Ms. Loretta Brookshier in Marceline, Missouri, whoever you may be.

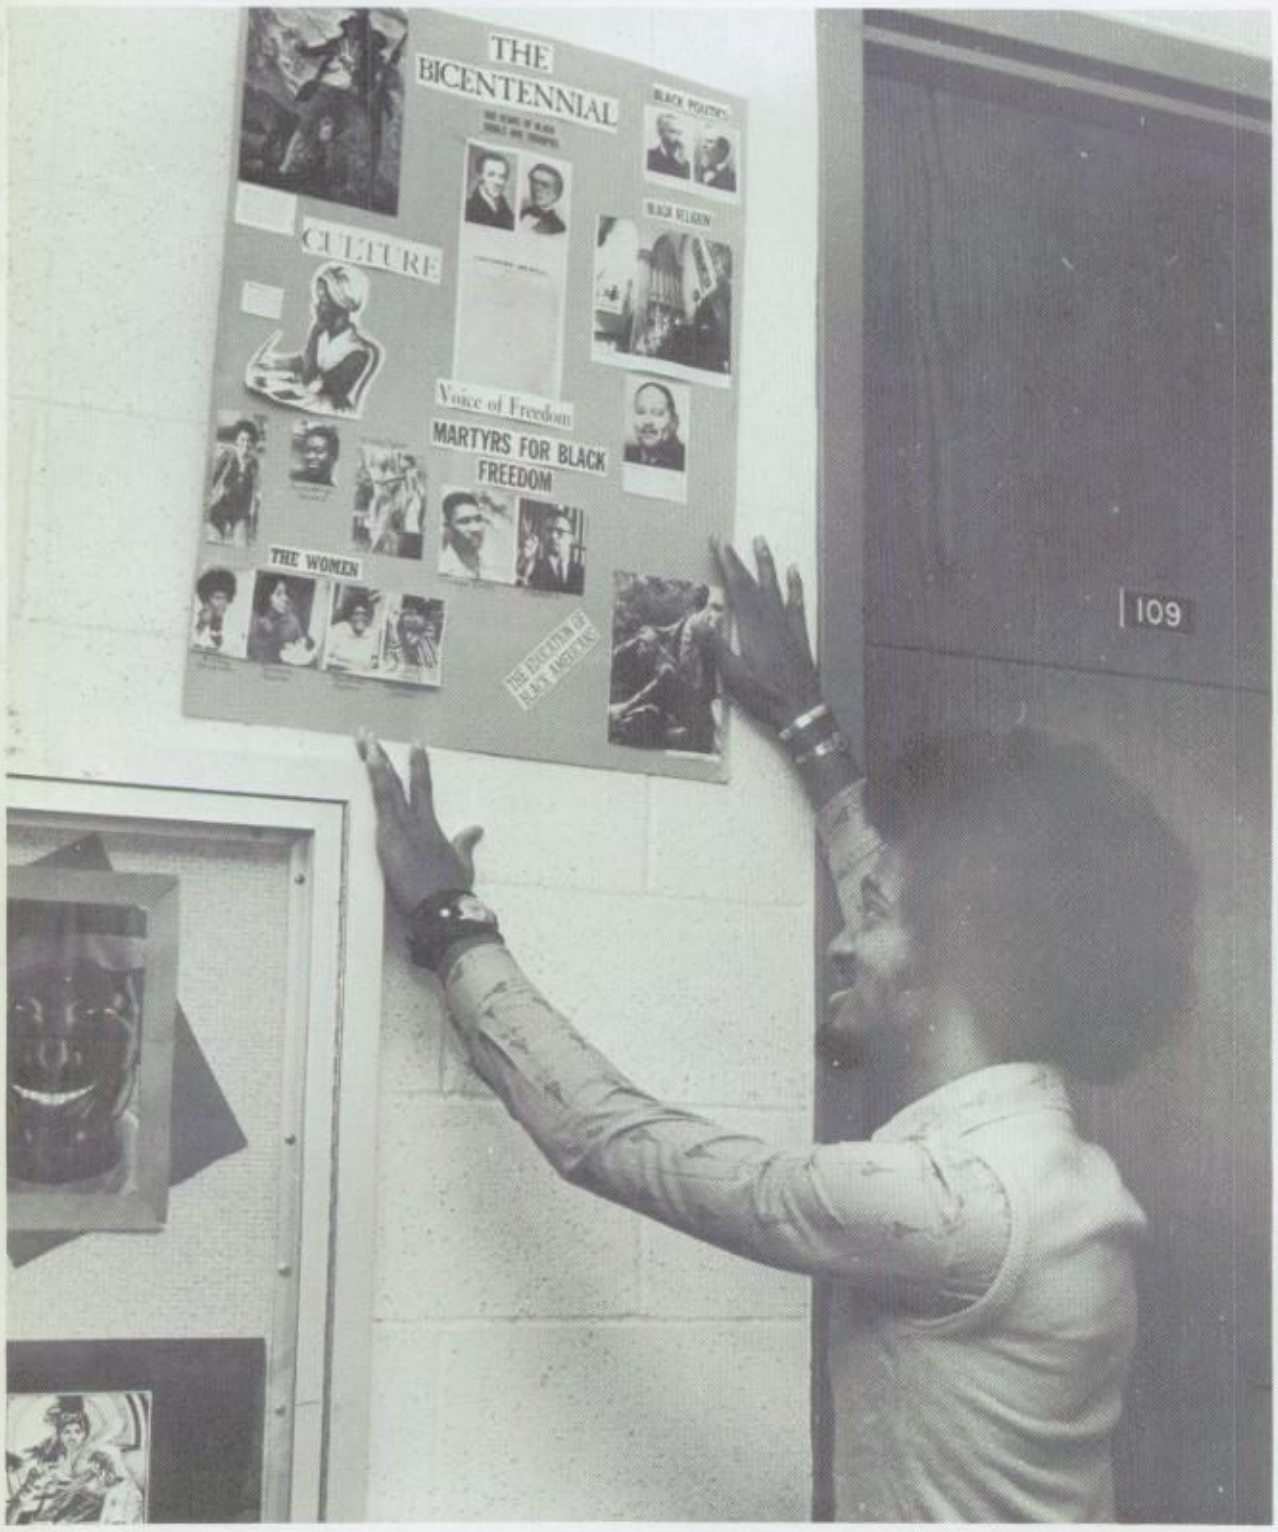
Students, parents participate in bicentennial



Broad Ripple celebrated America's bicentennial birthday by observing that "Looking Back Helps Understand the Future". The bicentennial committee, consisting of students, teachers, administrators, and parents, chose the theme hoping to incorporate it into academic and extra-curricular activities throughout the year.

"Homecoming Bicentennial Blast," the post-game dance, took place in October in the patriotically decorated Cafeteria. The Christmas dance with the theme "Bicentennial Ballroom Blitz" also showed student interest in the bicentennial.

The Music Department helped celebrate the country's 200th birthday at Market Square Arena along with high school and elementary school students from all over the city. This bicentennial program on May 7 not only included vocal groups, but bands and orchestras as well.

In his Black Literature bicentennial project, Marion Kelly portrays 200 years of black trials and triumphs.

Participating in a flag ceremony, the J ROTC assembles at the American Legion before marching down Broad Ripple Avenue to present flags to store owners.

THE END
Sights and sounds of the end . . . Ripplites looking back over the past school year . . . premature symptoms of senioritis . . . an increase in class cutting as the end of school nears . . . janitors readying their brooms for the expected debris left in the halls from last minute locker cleaning . . . diligent searches for summer jobs . . . so-called words of wisdom scribbled in yearbooks at the Preview Party . . . underclassmen eager to leave school until next fall . . . seniors looking forward to graduation and post-high school plans . . .
